Dedication

We, the graduating class of 1948, proudly dedicate our yearbook to Mrs. Lyrace Fontaine, whose untiring efforts and helpful advice have brought us successfully to the day of our graduation.

Faculty

First row: Miss McGillicuddy, Miss Hackett, Mr. Call, Mr. Parry, Mrs. Johnson, Miss Johnson, Miss Kemp.
Second row: Mrs. Fontaine, Miss Wingett, Mr. Holbrook, Mr. Vassar, Mr. Desrosiers, Miss Shanney, Miss Rowe.

President's Address

The class of 1948 has come to the end of its high school days. For many years we have sat where you are sitting now and watched other classes review their years at Proctor High School. Now, it is our turn!

It is with mingled feelings of happiness and regret that we are assembled—regret, because our high school days are over. We have worked and played together as a group for four years; we have had our ups and downs, but as we think back over those years, we have only pleasant memories of our school days. So it is with a feeling of sorrow that we leave our Alma Mater.

Youth loves adventure and we are looking forward to the future. This commencement, or new beginning, is the start of our adventure. For twelve years we have been preparing for it. Some of us will go on to college, others will enter business; but whatever we do, we hope we will be a credit to Proctor High School.

As we are about to take our place among the alumni, it is fitting that we pay tribute to our parents, who made our education possible, and to the members of the faculty, who have worked patiently with us.

To them and to all who have helped us on our way, we extend a grateful "Thank You."

BRUCE CURTIS

Class Song

(To the tune of "Now Is The Hour")

Now is the hour when we must say goodbye,
Soon we'll be leaving dear old Proctor High.
While we're away, our memories will stay,
Filled with the joys of every high school day.

Class Poem

OUR FAREWELL TO YOU

We stand here now before you,
We have come to the end of the trail.
Now we must board the ship of life,
As into the world we will sail.

'Twas only four short years ago
That our course was gaily set;
It led us into Proctor High,
And many friends there we met.

We worked our very hardest,
And we always tried our best.
We also had games, plays, and proms
We entered with spirit and zest.

So parents, friends, and teachers,
We stand at the goal we have gained,
For now we have to say farewell,
"Our journey is done," "the summit attained."

Class History

FRESHMAN YEAR

In the year 1944, thirty-four bright-eyed freshmen crashed the gates into P. H. S. This was the beginning of our exciting high school career.

Upon our arrival we were greeted by two new teachers. Miss Vogler became the new music supervisor, and Mrs. Lavarney replaced Miss Johnston in the mathematics department.

At our first class meeting we elected as officers: president, Harold Olson; vice president, Frances Ostrowski; secretary, Anna Schako; treasurer, Bernice Steele. Our sponsor was Mrs. Lavarney.

Soon after our arrival into high school the prospect of the Freshman Reception clouded our horizon. This affair took place on October 11. We were advised to be at the gym at 7:30 A.M. in order to get our beauty treatment. That night the entertainment was held in the gym and was followed by a dance. We were fortunate enough to survive the ordeal and were glad "to hit the hay."

Our class has always been athletic. As freshmen, Bruce Curtis, Harold Olson, Peter Kapitan, and Victor Valach made the J. V. squad in basketball. George Thompson, Peter Kapitan, Harold Olson, Bruce Curtis, and Victor Valach went out for baseball. Bruce and Victor earned their letters.

The arrival of spring brought the one-act play contest. We produced "Pearls" and won the third prize.

So ended our freshman year.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

In September, '45, P. H. S. opened its doors to welcome the high and mighty sophomores. In our second year at the high school we became part of it and looked down on the approaching freshmen.

There were four new members on the faculty. Miss Rowe replaced Mrs. Lavarney in the science and math department. Miss Hall became the new home economics teacher. Mr. Johnson replaced both Mrs. Reissig in the social studies department and Mr. Belcher in manual training. Coach Desrosiers replaced Coach Adams.

We lost two members of our class, Colin Fay, who entered Vermont Academy and Margaret Alberico. We also gained a member, Hilda Mhyrberg, who came here from Burlington.

The officers elected for the year were president, Bruce Curtis; vice president, Albert Kivisto; secretary, Mary Allard; and treasurer, Beverly Baccei. Mrs. Fontaine was chosen our class sponsor.

The music festival in the spring claimed four of our classmates. They were Ovid Boni, Bernice Steele, Elna Anderson and George Thompson, all violinists. They stayed in Burlington for three days at cabins by the lake. They say they have never been so cold before or since.

We were fortunate that year and won first prize in the one act play contest. Our class produced, "The Ghost Story." George took the leading part and a star was born! Later we gave a repeat performance at Fair Haven High School.

The athletes in our sophomore year were quite successful. Pete, Bunum, Vic, Andy, and Chuck played football. Bruce, Victor, Peter, Harold, George and Richard Phillips were on the baseball team which won the southern Vermont title and then got the runner-up trophy for the state. This was the first baseball trophy at Proctor in many years—if ever. We boasted four men on the varsity basketball squad, Harold Olson, Pete Kapitan, Victor Valach and Bruce Curtis. Bruce subbed as center, Bunum and Pete were forwards, and Vic played guard. Kapitan and Gallus showed one of the best basketball combines, but nevertheless the Phantoms had bad luck and had to play off with Poultney for a tourney berth. Proctor lost this game and ended the season with another play-off loss to Poultney for the M. V. L. championship.

Along with June came our Sophomore Hop which was a loss financially but a gain socially.

JUNIOR YEAR

As we entered our junior year, we welcomed five new members to the faculty. Mr. Parry came from the Navy to be our new principal. In the music department Miss Wingett replaced Miss Vogler. Taking Mrs. Walsh's place in the history room was Mr. Vassar, an Army veteran. Miss McGillicuddy came to teach biology and English. Mr. Hirtle replaced Mr. Johnson in the shop courses.

We had lost three members of our class. Helen Zsido and Herman Carlson left to work and Margaret Alberico went to M. S. J. During the year Rita Alberico left to get married. We had also gained three new members—Art Duchene and Edwin Larson, from the Navy, and Ovid Boni, from the Philippines.

One of our first duties was to elect our officers, said duty putting Bruce Curtis in the president's chair. Victor Valach was elected vice president; Anna Schako, secretary; and Anna Illinski, treasurer. Mrs. Fontaine was still our sponsor.

Peter Kapitan, Bruce Curtis, Charles Sule, Harold Olson, Victor Valach, and George Thompson all played football. They had a fair season, ending up in about fourth place.

We were more successful in basketball. We won the Marble Valley League; then, journeying to Barre, we were defeated in a close game by West Rutland, our old rival. There were four juniors on the first squad, Victor, Bruce Curtis, Harold, and Pete. Our class also won the interclass tournament by defeating the seniors.

Bruce Curtis, Harold, Pete, Dick Phillips, George, and Victor played baseball. We won a trophy for our section of the Marble Valley League but were defeated in the play-off by M. S. J.

Our class took over the yearly junior duty of sponsoring the prize play contest. This resulted in our taking first prize with "The Trysting Place," here at Proctor. We didn't do so well in Middlebury, where we took fourth and last place.

Our class was well represented at the Music Festival in Burlington. George Thompson, Ovid Boni and Elna Anderson played in the all-state orchestra while Bruce Curtis and Bruce Humphrey sang in the all-state glee club. Ovid was concert master for two selections. On Saturday our glee club, quartet, and orchestra performed in various places throughout Burlington.

Ovid Boni played a big part in filling the coffers of our class by presenting a violin concert that was well attended and received by the people of the town and Rutland. It was held at Rutland High School.

At the close of May our Junior Prom was held. The decorations suggested a garden. They consisted of apple blossoms, potted trees, fences, and lawn furniture. We all worked hard to make it a success and it was just that. Contrary to the previous year, we were ahead financially.

During commencement week we took a trip to Thompson's camp on Lake Bomoseen. We arrived in the morning and remained there until mid-evening. It seemed that everybody had a good time although some of the class got wet feet and poison ivy. It was a farewell party for Ovid, and we presented him with a gift.

Anna Schako was chosen delegate to Girls' State. The boys chosen for Boys' State were Harold Olson and Bruce Curtis.

The marshals at graduation were Richard Phillips and Elna Anderson. Richard led the graduates; and Elna, the alumni.

During the summer Bruce Curtis and Harold Olson played Junior Legion baseball, and Bruce was one of the boys chosen from New England to go to Boston to take scholarship tests for Boston University. Bruce was successful in winning one of the four-year scholarships. We were all proud of him.

SENIOR YEAR

We entered the school year in September, 1947, with three changes in the faculty. Miss Kemp took Miss Edgett's place in girls' physical education. Miss Shanney replaced Miss Hall in the home economics room and Mr. Holbrook, in the shop classes, took Mr. Hirtle's place.

Robert Anderson, a Navy veteran, joined our class. Art Duchene left to study refrigeration in Massachusetts.

For class officers we reelected Bruce Curtis as president. We also chose George Thompson as vice president, Anna Schako as secretary, and Anna Illinski as treasurer. Our sponsor was Mrs. Fontaine.

The class was now minus two of its members. Hilda Myhrberg moved to Rutland, and Ovid Boni took the long trip back to the Philippines.

The winning candidates from the senior class for the reestablished Student Council were Robert Anderson, president, Carol Klebeck and Anna Schako, representatives.

After school had settled down, we found the freshmen reception right at hand. As usual it was lipstick and green paper for the "freshies," with more elaborate costumes in the evening.

"Growing Pains" was the title of the senior play presented in December. Miss Hackett did a fine job of directing.

A series of profitable events followed the play, sale of Christmas cards, two or three food sales, several dances, and a Senior Ball. Most classes in the past have gone into the red on formal dances. We came out on the top. The profit? Six cents.

Six seniors were out for football in the fall, Pete Kapitan, Bunum Olson, Vic Valach, Bruce Curtis, Moose Thompson, and Andy Macek. In basketball these same seniors won the Marble Valley League championship with fourteen straight wins. They were narrowly defeated by West Rutland in an overtime period in the Southern Vermont Tournament. In the class B consolation game at Barre they defeated Waterbury, winning the consolation trophy.

Elna Anderson was elected the D. A. R. girl of the class of '48. We wish to congratulate her.

The class trip came in May. A four-day week-end in New York was the reward for working so hard to earn the money. After this the treasury looked a little sick!

Thus, we come to the close of our school year. We will always remember the good times we have had in Proctor High School and will never forget the friends we've made.

TIME—1958

PLACE—Before a giant television set on the campus of Proctor High School.

As we sit before the set, an unseen hand turns the dial and we can see images from all over the world. Let's begin. Ah—the first image is coming in. It's from——

MOSCOW, RUSSIA—Well, look who's here. Beverly Baccei, the great debater, is touring Russia and will have a series of debates on "Why we should control our tempers." These debates should go down in history.

PARIS, FRANCE—My my, look at those latest fashions! And see who the model is! None other than Frances Ostrowski.

PEIKING, CHINA—This looks like an interesting place, but where are all the people going? The main attraction seems to be a famous ballet theater where Anna Illinski is starring. Her partner is the graceful Andrew Macek.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS—Carol Klebeck is now a nurse at the "Victory Hospital." She spends all her spare time helping her father's employee.

RENO, NEVADA—No wonder all the women are going to Reno to get their divorces. The lawyer is Richard Olson. In recent years he has been very successful. Keep it up, Rube!

MIAMI, FLORIDA—We saw an ad in the Esquire magazine advertising Burt McCullough's new creation, the Dairy Maid bathing suit.

WHITEHALL, NEW YORK—The "Roma" restaurant has become very prosperous in recent years. Since Bruce Curtis has become proprietor, they've had to buy more food. Can you imagine why?

BRONX, NEW YORK—Ann Schako has become a nurse at the engineering school here. She takes special care of one student. We take it for granted she enjoys her work.

BENNINGTON, VERMONT—We find Bernice Steele is private secretary to the president of the "Leamy Tell and Tell Company."

PROCTOR, VERMONT—We always did think Proctor should have something to liven it up, and Bruce Humphrey has done just that. He has converted his chicken farm into "Carolyn's Rhumba Room."

WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS—Who do you suppose is driving the motor-cycle with "Jack Kochman and His Hell Drivers"? It's Harvey Larson. His prize stunt is going through the tunnel of flame. (Or is it love?)

SAVANNAH, GEORGIA—Bunam Olson is running a peach farm. He has cross bred a new peach which he calls Marilyn.

KOKOMO, INDIANA—"Chuck" Sule has just published a new book. The title is, "How to Get Dimples Quick."

HAMPTON, NEW HAMPSHIRE—We have spotted a cute little Dairy Bar. I believe it is called "Harriet's Dairy Bar." Robert Anderson is here all dressed up. What is he doing here? Well, he is the bouncer. We wonder if it's the salary or the proprietor that interests him most!

FLORENCE, VERMONT—Now we are in a little town in Vermont where the center of attraction is "Willie's Wagon." Lois Mortenson is the cigarette girl.

CAIRO, EGYPT—Reviewing the famous places in Egypt we come across the "Giggle-Giggle Gollstrom School" for men. It is run by our classmate "Fritz." She is teaching the Egyptians how, when, and where to laugh. Because of previous experience, we know she is making out well.

NEW YORK, NEW YORK—Thank goodness! We're just in time to see the opening number at "Czapla's Saloon." Gladys Dahlin, the star vocalist, will sing her favorite number, "Waltz Me Around Again, Henry."

HOLLYWOOD, CALIFORNIA—Now we are taken to the M. G. M. grounds. We find Elna Anderson and Mary Allard. Elna is an understudy for Ingrid Bergman, and Mary is playing the part of Lady Macbeth in the recent production of "Macbeth." She landed the part because of her knowledge of the play from her high school English.

CANADIAN BORDER—Albert Kivisto has invited the entire class to see his fish collection. For ten years he has been collecting them. He has almost every specimen, from a gold fish to a whale.

HAVANA, CUBA—We always knew Pete Kapitan had a good voice, but we never thought he'd develop it. He was fortunate enough to get a job as vocalist on pleasure cruisers from Havana to New York.

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS—Oh, my goodness! What's this? Richard Phillips has his own mystery program on station B.G. Try not to frighten her too much, Dick.

PHILIPPINE ISLANDS—Look what we have here behind the counter of the Klebeck's Food Market. It's Victor Valach. Is it the climate he likes, or is it the boss's daughter?

TORONTO, CANADA—George Thompson is a big game hunter. He has quite a few moose heads mounted.

FRANCES OSTROWSKI
ANNA SCHAKO

Class Degrees

CAROL KLEBECK—Because Carol gets along so well with the opposite sex, we award her the degree of C. G. G., Class Glamour Girl.

BRUCE HUMPHREY—For his outstanding ability as a singer, Bruce wins the award C. V., Class Vocalist.

GLADYS DAHLIN—Not a peep, just a smile, gives Gladys the degree of C. S. G., Class Silent Girl.

LOIS MORTENSON—To the engaged Lois we give a degree of C. H. W., Class House Wife.

BERNICE STEELE—Because of Bernice's good manners, we give her the degree of C. L., Class Lady.

RICHARD PHILLIPS—Early in the morning trying to keep those bottles quiet we find Richard, wearing the degree of C. M., Class Milkman.

ANDREW MACEK—When the high school starts to rock, we find Andrew chasing ants; so we give him the degree of C. W., Class Wiggler.

ALBERT KIVISTO

Class Grumbles

As members of the senior class we suggest that a smoking room be established or an electric eye installed; so that when Mr. Parry comes in, a bell will ring and all the butts may be disposed of.

Since there isn't any ink in them, all the ink wells in the desks should be removed and replaced with ashtrays.

Escalators should be installed between the class rooms and the boiler room as three minutes is not much time to catch a smoke.

Only failing students should play sports. As they are failing and don't have to spend much time studying, they could put more time on sports which would better athletics.

Garage space should be provided for students such as Robert Anderson, so their shiny cars will not become rusty after a hard day in the rain. Mister Parry might even sacrifice his garage to Goose.

We recommend that classes be three minutes and the time between classes be forty minutes. This would provide more time for the athletes to do assignments.

And what about a marriage bureau for the lovers of P. H. S.?

Why not have the girls sit in the rear of the study hall? The feminine angels have had their way long enough!

The Proctor Creamery should provide gum machines to be placed in all the class rooms.

The students of manual training could fix the desks so that inlaid checkerboards, cards and dice would be available to all.

The faculty should have jobs, such as bank president, etc., lined up for the students who flunk out of school.

Will Almo, alias George, be custodian of the new school on Olympus Road, or will he be dead of old age before then?

Instead of lectures in class, why not teach the students with movies, such as Mickey Mouse or "Forever Amber."

We lost the coke machine, so why not install a pin ball machine for the students who lost their appetities after drinking coke? The proceeds would go toward the athletic fund.

We want windshield wipers on the study hall windows for rainy days, so that the day-dreamers will have something to occupy their minds while they are day-dreaming.

CHARLES SULE
BURTON McCULLOUGH
PETER KAPITAN

Advice To Juniors

SOPHIE LIVAK—We suggest that you be careful of the giggles in history next year. You know Mr. Vassar!

WARREN McCULLOUGH—We suggest that you take chemistry next year. Burt liked it.

STEVE NEMETH—Keep the school warm if "George" is ever absent.

STANLEY NILSSON—We suggest you keep up the trombone playing, until after graduation, anyway.

IRIS OSCARSON—Keep singing operas and someday it may bring you a career.

THEODORE PARKER—Be sure to manage a good basketball team next year—also.

ROBERT POCKETTE—Why don't you get a reclining chair for your school work?

SHIRLEY PULSIPHER—We advise you to get a front seat in history next year so you won't have to move.

ESTELLE ANDERSON—We advise you to make a little noise in school so the students will know you're around.

DONALD BURGESS—Take it easy on Carrigan when he calls you DUB.

MARVIN DOANE—Why don't you help Henry Wallace campaign for the presidency?

RUTH EVANCHA—Better keep your eyes on the road, Ruthie, and not on your driving instructor.

ANN EIGNER—Why not express your feelings someday by leading a Proctor cheer in the library?

COLIN FAY—Now that you have a motorcycle, we suggest that you take it easy. Remember what happened on your bicycle!

ROBERT FRAPPIER—Keep up the excellent acting so that assemblies will be even better next year.

MARGARET GALO—Why not start a soda fountain in the high school, Peggy? We're sure you'd get a lot of business.

BARBARA GATES—We suggest that you stock up on writing paper and get the address of a certain senior boy.

THOMAS GENO—Because of Thomas' acting ability, we suggest that he keep up the good work.

ARMENIA GIANOLA—Armenia has a good strong voice; so we advise her to stay on the cheering squad.

MARY HIGBEE—Every orchestra needs a flute; so we recommend that Mary stay in the orchestra.

KATHERINE HORVATH—For her profession, Katherine has chosen to be a nurse. We know she will make a good one, and we wish her success.

LOUIS KING—Keep up the good work in chemistry. Some day you may invent another atomic bomb.

JACK LADABOUCHE—Jack's ambition is to take third year French. Why not quit while you're winning?

LAWRENCE LAFRANCE—Since Lawrence thinks the girls from Rutland are better than the local talent, we suggest that he get acquainted with some Proctor girls.

JEAN LERTOLA—Our suggestion to Jean is to keep the Student Council going after we leave.

HELEN LIPTAK—We suggest that Helen subscribe to a newspaper for the whole high school, so she won't be bothered in study hall.

ETHEL SKJETNE—We advise you to keep up the good work in entertaining the fifth period study hall.

BARTON REISSIG—How about contributing your ability in all sports to P. H. S. next year?

WILLIAM VISI—Open your eyes and notice a certain girl classmate!

ALEX VARGA—We think it would be a good idea to get a car. The hike must be very tiresome.

JEAN RATTI—Since you always seem so happy, we advise you to keep up the morale of P. H. S. on gloomy days.

ROBERT RICHARDSON—Keep up the good work in football.

DAPHNE WITKINS—If you keep on with your skating, you may some day join the Ice Follies.

JANET STEVENS—Keep up the good work in typing, and maybe you will be able to get a job typing for Mr. Parry next year.

BEVERLY SENEAL—Since you have so many busy nights, we suggest you move down to Patch Hill.
